OptimAITech and Sarugo Partner to Stand Taller

BRISBANE / ADELAIDE, AUSTRALIA, 6 November 2008 – OptimAITech Pty Ltd, an innovative provider of Scheduling Optimisation and Prediction Software for “Happy Clients”, and Sarugo Pty Ltd, a software engineering company specialising in providing software development services and unique products to local and international customers, announced today that they agreed to partner in order to provide a broader range of products and services to their clients.

“We are excited to partner with OptimAITech and see a great fit between our companies. We are looking forward to combine our expertise, products and services, so we can provide a broader range of offerings to our clients,” said Mr. Trevor Glen, Sarugo Director.

Dr. Martin Schmidt, Chief Executive Officer of OptimAITech, added: “Our collaboration with Sarugo allows us to cover a larger geographic area and lift larger projects. Together we stand taller, which allows us to reach further in our marketing, sales and development efforts. We both feel that great times are ahead of us!”

Under the partnering agreement, OptimAITech and Sarugo will utilise their expertise and collaborate to solve larger projects, and will increasingly utilise their independent proprietary software packages to strengthen their product and service offerings to cover a wider geographic area. Apart from internal collaboration, OptimAITech and Sarugo will also strengthen their combined marketing and sales efforts.
